

OU will go 'on the air' with station KWOU

Spring election ends; 654 students turn out at polls

'Hot' electioneering is absent as Greeks take all posts; juniors are tops in voting

OU students can chalk up a unique election on their political slates this year. And this "uniqueness" pertains to similarities as well as contrasts to previous elections.

For the first time that Gateway staff members can recall, the Greek coalition came through with a landslide win—14 posts out of 14 open.

Another contrast is the conspicuous absence of hot and heavy electioneering seen at recent elections. According to Assistant Dean of Students Ormaby Harry, "the election was very quiet, but the turnout was good."

Two will remain

A third change is that only two of this year's Councilmen will be "holdovers." They are Ben Tobias and Jim Townsend, who will fill senior and junior posts, respectively. This is a turnabout from last year, when eight representatives got a second nod of approval from their classmates.

An unusual coincidence lies in the fact that for the second time in two spring elections 51 percent of the student body voted. A total of 850 students voted last year, however, compared to this year's 654. Last fall's turnout just topped the 50 percent mark.

Juniors are tops

And again the same class turned out with the largest percentage of voters. The junior class came through with 60 percent voting. The class of '52 has held the lead since 1949.

Other class percentages were: freshmen, 55 percent; sophomores, 51 percent, and seniors, 40 percent. Seniors voted only for the Ma-ie Day Princess, whose identity will be disclosed at the Ma-ie Day Pow Wow May 11.

New members

Winners in the election are as follows: Joan Bugbee, Jackie Zerbe, George Marling, and Ben Tobias, Senior Student Council; Charlotte Longville, Marilyn Sibert, Howard Olson and Jim Townsend, Juniors, and Diane Purdy, Jean Salladay, Bob Keim and Roger Orr, Sophomores.

Named as Board of Publications members were Bonnie Wilson and Jim Daley.

Music fraternities present varied concert at Thursday convocation

Three duo piano numbers, a woodwind quartet, a brass choir, and the Madrigal Singers were among the features of Thursday's 9:30 music convocation.

First on the program was "An American in Paris" by Gershwin performed by Dorothy Hayes and Nancy Hileman. This was followed by a duet from Pagnini's "Madame Butterfly" sung by Barbara Comstock and Arlene Madsen, with Nancy Lindborg accompanying. Miss Lindborg also played a solo, a Schuman etude.

A violin solo, Handel's Sonata in F, was performed by Darlene

The Gateway apologizes

The Gateway wishes to apologize to Ma-ie Day Princess candidate Beverly Swahn and Board of Publications candidate Dean Brown for the cutting of their list of activities in Tuesday's paper.

The omission was due to mechanical limitations, and the error was not caught until all Gateway copies had been printed. In no way does it reflect Gateway opinion.

Radio wave lengths will cover campus area only

Within the next few weeks OU will be "on the air" with its own radio station.

Station KWOU will be the "wired wireless" type broadcasting only to the OU campus. It will not be heard by residents in the Omaha area. Students in the main building, Student Center, or in parked cars will be able to hear the KWOU broadcasts.

Eligible student voters must register today

Students who have recently reached voting age and have not yet registered are urged to do so by this evening. This also includes students who have moved or changed their names since previous elections.

Registration will be open at the Courthouse from 8:30 a. m. to 9 p. m. through Friday.

The purpose of the new station will be to provide a realistic radio broadcasting laboratory for radio and news writing students. These students will prepare the programs and actually present them "on the air." Programs, including disc jockey shows, student news, sports and special events will be "aired" during the broadcasting schedule.

FCC Approval

Robert Stratbucher, in cooperation with several other physics majors constructed the transmitter. The transmitter was installed Saturday. The Federal Communications Commission will visit the OU campus in the near future to test the equipment. The transmitter must meet certain FCC specifications.

The station, since it will be heard only on campus requires no FCC broadcasting license. It does, however, require a certificate of operation. Preliminary equipment checks indicate this certificate should be forthcoming.

Personnel

Station KWOU has been planned and installed by Bruce Linton, head of the speech and radio department. Linton has announced the KWOU staff as follows: program director, John Marshall; chief announcer, Jack Katz; announcers, John Fargher and Ben Butler; continuity director, Jim McPherson; music director, Dick Carlson; and traffic director, Lenore Marx. The news director will be announced at a later date by Robert McGranahan, Journalism Department director.

Final arrangements have yet to be completed. The program schedule has not been determined, but the station will be on the air several hours a day twice a week. The frequency on which the station will operate also has not been decided.

National group elects OU junior president of home economics

A university junior has been elected president of the College Club Division of the American Home Economics Association. Patricia Doyle who was elected this week to the post, is president of the OU Home Economics Club.

Miss Doyle was nominated by Province IX of the club's 16 provinces. OU is a member of the province. All clubs in the country voted on the officers. This summer, Miss Doyle will go to the national convention in Cleveland to be installed, and in 1952 she will attend the Atlantic City convention to preside there.

Miss Doyle has been secretary of the Nebraska State College Division, of the national group for two years.

Students have opportunity to work mill levy campaign

Machinery started turning late Wednesday which will enable all OU students to participate actively in the mill levy campaign.

As a result, students can now register in the student lounge for four types of campaign work—door-to-door campaigning, poll working, telephoning and transportation of voters. The election is set for May 15.

George Marling heads the temporary central committee sponsoring the student campaign. Jean Duncan is secretary. Other committee members are Duane Post, Ralph Selby and Tom Townsend.

Organization of the committee followed a student meeting early Wednesday afternoon. William Utley, head of the History and Government Department, served as preliminary chairman.

Headquarters of the student central committee are located at the west end of the student lounge.

"Since our fundamental problem is individual contact with voters," Marling commented, "we particularly need a great number of door-to-door workers." He emphasized that though the central committee is strictly a student organization, it will be co-ordinated with alumni and university campaign plans.

The committee tentatively scheduled an all-student assembly for 9:30 next Wednesday morning. Campaign techniques and issues will be explained. Student workers, however, have been asked to sign up immediately after Ma-ie Day. Students will be organized as precinct and ward captains in an effort to cover as many as possible of Omaha's 204 election districts.

Meanwhile, the university campaign schedule began to take shape. A "stuffing bee" Tuesday evening highlighted the week. More than 25 staff members gathered in the faculty clubroom from 5 to 7 to stuff 12,000 envelopes with campaign materials.

The mail will be sent to probable friends of the university next week.

Holiday activities begin tomorrow with skit elimination in auditorium

Plans for the annual Ma-ie Day celebration are progressing smoothly. This year will mark OU's seventeenth Ma-ie Day holiday, which will include a breakfast, parade, and skit entertainment, climaxed by a dance.

Skit elimination will be held tomorrow afternoon in the auditorium. Twelve skits will be judged beginning at 1 p. m. Skit chairmen Syntha Judd announced the following schedule:

Skit schedule

1 p. m. Kappa Mu Lambda; 1:20 Chi Omega; 1:40 Phi Ep; 2:00 Gamma; 2:20 Independent; 2:40 Sig Ep; 3:00 APO; 3:20 Theta Phi Delta; 3:40 Zeta; 4:00 Sigma Kappa; 4:20 Theta Chi; 4:40 Alpha Xi.

Each skit will be allowed 15 minutes on stage. There will be a space of five minutes between skits so that props can be removed.

Chairmen meet

Ray Hampton, parade chairman, announced a meeting of all float chairmen Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the ean of Students. Chairman will draw for their organization's place in the parade.

Registering cars for the Ma-ie Day Parade will be done Monday and Tuesday from 9 a. m. 2 p. m. in the Box Office. It will be first come, first served since only 150 cars will be allowed in the parade.

Next week at this time we'll be riding in the Ma-ie Day Parade behind all the floats everyone worked for weeks on. You can tell just about what everyone's float is going to look like by looking for hangnails which indicates that the float will be stuffed and by examining the color of different hands you can tell what color the float will be.

Sorry I can't give anymore helpful hints . . . but a secret's a secret. Two organizations on campus are building their floats together. And everyone knows where the two floats are being slapped together.

There are several pros and cons to this community building. If one float wins and the other doesn't the organizations will be enemies for life . . . or until the other organization wins something. Accusations and all will be flying around . . . feature it . . . "We spent more time on your float than you did on ours" . . . If you hadn't brought the beer over we'd have got more done than we did . . . and so on into the night.

Exams are only three weeks away . . . Why do they have to come so soon after Ma-ie Day? Why do they have to come at all?

Apologies are due to Beverly Swahn whose candidate sketch was inadvertently cut by the printer. And also to Dean Brown.

It must be spring . . . a group of students were discussing a headline that was on the front page lower corner of the Gateway last Tuesday. It seems that they think it was switched around somewhat . . . please, fellas! we've some newspaper morals hidden around here.

Skit elimination is tomorrow afternoon . . . As the Council stated "Students can come but we don't encourage it." There are 13 skits entered in the competition . . . Only six will survive the ordeal tomorrow.

Congratulations to all who were elected Wednesday. There's work to be done.

Do you want to meet someone or are you just lonely. There's a magazine out that features with pictures and all vital statistics young men and women from all over the country who want to write someone. The gals are junior sized Lana Turners and the fellas look like dreams from out of this world. The question is "What's their trouble?"

All OU men look and drool then get that wary, crafty gleam in their eyes and slink down the hall looking for a piece of paper and a pencil.

Jean McDonald doesn't know when the Tomahawk will be out.

Irv Jones has a nifty little combo. Dancers at the Joe College Dance really enjoyed the music.

OU parkers were faced with a rude awakening Monday. The policeman finally hung a few tickets. For such offenses as not parking between the lines, blocking the outlets, and general things. The back lot is now a safe place to park. The Council is pleased with the results. More money for the school budget.

We get the 'go-ahead'

OU students today have a "go ahead" signal on the project they've been waiting for. They have a chance to step in as active campaigners for the mill levy increase.

For students over 21 the most important duty is to deliver a "yes" vote at the election May 15. And for those students, we'd like to pass on the reminder that voting registration must be completed at the Douglas County Courthouse by 9 tonight.

For all OU students, however, an opportunity waits. A student committee is setting up the organization for a full-scale student campaign. Right now it needs to be joined by hundreds of student workers. You may join by signing up at the headquarters in the student lounge.

This is a situation where every student counts. The problem is to personally contact every voter, or nearly every voter, in the city. Mass student support is the only possible way to achieve success in this goal. Door-to-door campaigning, workers at every polling place in the city—these take much time and many workers. They also win elections.

Students go into the election campaign in a wonderful position. We will approach Omaha voters as vote-getters, but as neighbors. Facing a sympathetic public, our task will be not to argue, but to remind. We are selling a good product, and we ourselves are the testimonials for it. T.N.T.

Ex-chorine is cum laude graduate

Did you hear the one about the chorus girl who went to college? Don't laugh yet—she graduated cum laude. Her name is Lois Prechtel, and this is her secret of success as told to the Associated Press:

"I saw long ago that if you do all that's required of you, you'll never get finished, so I tried to do as little as I could and get by."

"I used to get one part of my lesson well and volunteer to recite on that. Then I paid excellent attention in class, took very extensive notes and studied these before examinations. Then, in the examinations I would give back to the teachers what they had lectured on and they love it."

"Now I have my degree to fall back on, if I can't make musicals."

Baseballers face Tutors in contests today, tomorrow

Iowa Teachers will furnish the opposition when the OU baseballers invade the Cedar Falls, Iowa, campus for two games, today and Saturday.

The Indians, rained out of the Simpson game Saturday and Tuesday's engagement with Morningside, will still be out to win their first ball game of the year.

So far Omaha has dropped two contests to Arkansas 7-2 and 14-8 and a ten-inning thriller to Wichita 4-2. In between and after these games the OU nine has been rained or snowed out ten times.

It's anybody's guess as to who Coach Virg Yelkin will give the nod to for the pitching chores.

Bob Offerjost, who was ticketed to start against Buena Vista, Tuesday, April 24, moved up to pitch the Wichita game when the BV contest was washed out.

"Bud" Bridenbaugh, the original Wichita nominee, was then slated to work in the rained-out Simpson game.

In an attempt to get back on the win trail, Yelkin could call on his two top hurlers, Bridenbaugh and Offerjost again.

There is also a chance that righthanders Lynn Hooten and Larry Micheels, who saw only brief action in the Arkansas game, might get the nod against the Tutors.

Weather again stops intramural action

Inter-mural track meet which was to have been held last Wednesday and Thursday was postponed. Poor weather and a muddy track caused the postponement. The meet will be held at a later date, maybe sometime next week.

Softball season will start next week. Team managers are urged to keep in contact with Ernie Gorr, 'mural director, regarding the schedule. The games will be played on an elimination basis, due to lack of diamonds, poor weather and shortage of time.

Assistant OU coach to assume new job

One of Omaha U's assistant football coaches has a new job. Al Caniglia will become athletic director and head football coach at Hillsboro, Ill., Aug. 1.

Caniglia assisted Head Coach Lloyd Cardwell with the OU squad last fall. Previously he had served as freshman football coach at St. Louis University.

Netsters dump Maryville team

Monday afternoon OU's tennis team will seek its fifth win in six starts, when it invades Fremont for a match with Midland College.

Bad weather and some unknown quantity cancelled both Omaha U tennis matches during the early part of this week.

The squad was to have played at Tarkio, Missouri, Tuesday afternoon, but Old Man Weather stepped in. For some reason, the other foe of the week, Maryville Teachers failed to show up. The teams were to have met on the Dewey Park courts Wednesday.

Coach George Pritchard's crew was also scheduled to play Morningside yesterday afternoon. Results will be in next Tuesday's Gateway.

In action last Saturday, the Indians dumped Maryville Teachers on the victims' home courts, 7-0.

Each Omahan won his match easily, with Brendon Gallagher leading with a 6-0, 6-0 win over Ed Jones. Tom Burke, Fred Pisasale, Don Blocker and Dale Womer also coasted to victory. Womer was extended in downing George Nathan, 6-7, 7-5.

In the doubles, it was the same story. Burke-Blocker spilled Carmichael and McFaddin, 6-3, 6-3. Pisasale and Gallagher combined to send Nathan and Pope to their downfall, 6-1, 6-0.

Chi O bowlers flub chance to win title

Chi Omega's chance for a share of the OUWI bowling title was lost in a one frame play-off. Gamma Mu, who tied the Chi O gals in the last meeting of the regular season, rolled past the Chi O's, giving full honors to Alpha Xi B.

Nancy Will is the ping pong singles' champion. She took the title when she defeated Sylvia Slater 16-21, 21-15, 21-11, 21-19.

Reservations for the coming OUWI banquet must be made by tonight (May 4). Dinner tickets are $2.50 for the semiformal banquet to be held at the Fontenelle Hotel.

Final tryouts for Orchesis, the national honorary modern dance society, were held Tuesday in the Hut.

OU golfers clobber Nebraska Wesleyan

Omaha U's golfers literally massacred Nebraska Wesleyan's team Wednesday afternoon at Indian Hills, 18-0.

All four of Coach Johnny Campbell's players blanked their opponents. Bob Lindberg dumped Bob Gentry, Gart Lof spilled Milt Krough, Gordon defeated Jim Wickstrom and Bob Russell hit Dick Gentry. All matches were the same. Lindberg-Lof defeated Jim Wickstrom and Bob Russell hit, Dick Gentry. All matches were decisive, the scores being 3-0.

The doubles matches were the same. Lindberg-Lof defeated Bob Gentry-Krough, and Severa-Russell dumped the Wickstrom-Dick Gentry duo, both by 3-0.

OU's Lindberg was the afternoon's medalist with a 79 score,

Individual performers brighten track season

Omaha U trackmen showed up extremely well in two meets during the last week. Joe Nalty placed sixth in the Drake Relays 100 yard dash and won two dash events at Peru. Charlie Anderson set a new shotput record, also at Peru.

In the Peru Invitational meet, the Indians placed third behind Maryville Teachers and Peru. The winners had 70½ points, Peru had 52½ and OU scored 47. Tarkio placed fourth.

At Drake, Nalty qualified for the finals, but got off to a poor start and finished last in the field of six. But at Peru he won the 100 in 10.1 and the 220 in 22.8. This last time ties the meet record.

The outstanding Omaha job, however, was done by Anderson. Big Charlie put the shot 42

ft. 5 in. for a new record. This is one of the best Indian performance so far this season.

The only Omaha victory was in the discus. Dick Christie heaved the platter 128 ft. ½ in. to walk off with the event.

Jimmy Palmer and orchestra will play for Ma-ie Day dance at Peony Park ballroom

Students will be admitted by activity card; skit, float awards to be made

Jimmy Palmer and his orchestra has been announced as the band that will play for the annual Ma-ie Day dance next Friday night. Palmer will play for Omaha University students and their dates from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

Palmer plays in the old-fashioned style of dance music of the "singing ensemble" and the "singing song-titles". The style is on the original Kay Kyser-Sammy Kaye orchestras.

His orchestra has played at the Orpheum Theatre in Omaha. Most of his engagements have been on the east coast, particularly in New York City and in New Jersey.

Palmer started out as a dancer but later turned to a singing career. He has appeared as a featured vocalist with such bands as Bobby Byrne, Lou Breeze, Les Brown and Blue Barron. While with the Les Brown orchestra, he made several movies as vocalist with that band. Following that he organized his own band.

Featured with Jimmy Palmer will be Sunnie Anderson, Gene Long, Bob Fisher and the Beau Brummel Trio. Last year Joe Sanders' orchestra played for Ma-ie Day. The 17th annual dance will be informal and students will be admitted by activity cards.

Dick Beem, student council member, is in charge of the dance. The new Ma-ie Day Princess will reign over the dance. Awards for the skit and float winners will be made at the dance.

Sigma Kappa's talk convention plans

Discussion of the Sigma Kappa Province Convention was the highlight of the Beta Omega chapter's meeting. Wednesday night at the home of Donna Hayes.

The Convention will be held in Lawrence, Kansas Saturday and Sunday. The members will leave late Friday night. Pat Johanssen and Carol Miles are the delegates to the meeting. Approximately 13 members will attend.

A business meeting will start the convention Saturday morning. Following that there will be individual discussion groups on sorority and campus affairs. Carol Miles will lead one group on leadership and activities. Other discussion groups will be on rushing, pledge training, scholarship, party, skit and float ideas. A banquet will conclude the convention.

At the Wednesday night meeting music was handed out for the all-school sing. Miss Miles, the new president of the chapter, appointed new members to the executive board. Reports were made on the float and skit also.

Gamma's plan fete at Tuesday meeting

Gamma Sigma Omicron social sorority met Tuesday evening to plan an All-Gamma picnic. The picnic will be held May 18 at Elmwood Park. Alumnae and actives will be present.

Mary Ann Kardell will be in charge of the food and Shirley Hawkins will assist her. The sorority met at Marjorie Batle's home. Following the business meeting they held their skit practice.

OU Players choose new officers at meet

The University Players elected new officers at their meeting Wednesday afternoon but they will not be announced until their picnic.

Candidates for president were Lea Houghton and Bob Hanson. Competing for the vice president's office was Del Hanson and Leonore Marx. Other candidates were: Glennys Chittenden, Donna Miller and Dixie Pheney for secretary; Ben Butler and Joe Malec for treasurer, and Ruth Kennedy and Bonnie Kundel for historian.

The picnic is tentatively scheduled for June 1 at Elmwood Park. It will be held from 6 to 10 p. m. The new officers will be announced at that time.

Alpha Psi Omega, honor fraternity for drama students, will meet Sunday afternoon at 8 p. m. The meeting will be held at the home of Jean Durney. They will read a play and look over petitions from students wishing to join. Members must have so many points before they may join Alpha Psi Omega. They may get points by participating in the plays. Doug White is president of the honor organization.

Oldest social fraternity on OU campus, Theta boasts busy calendar of activities

Chartered in 1915, Theta Phi Delta is the oldest social fraternity on the OU campus. The group has been active at the university since that date except during the war years.

The fraternity's membership now numbers about 45 men. Ben Tobias is president, and Ernie Gorr, Raymond Maxwell and R. Wayne Wilson serve as faculty advisors.

Theta Phi Delta presents the only strictly formal all-Greek dance of the year to crown OU's "Outstanding Sorority Girl" of the current season. This year's title is held by Jacquie Geilus, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Last year, the Theta's started the custom of going to church in a group. They usually have breakfast together before the services.

In about two weeks, the fraternity will publish a four-page newspaper covering their activities during the past year. Bob

Faculty gives tea in honor of department head who's retiring

Miss Gertrude Kincaide was honored yesterday afternoon with a tea at the home of Dr. and Mrs. William H. Thompson. Miss Kincaide is retiring after 22 years of teaching. She was head of the Department of Foreign Languages.

The faculty presented Miss Kincaide with a white gold watch. The surprise gift was in a box with her corsage. The tea was given by the University of Omaha Women's Club. The entire faculty attended which was held from 3 to 5 p. m.

In the receiving line was Miss Kincaide, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Donald Nelson, Mrs. Milo Bail and Mrs. William Utley.

Miss Frances Wood, Mrs. Mildred Gearhart, Mrs. Christopher Espinosa and Miss Nell Ward poured for the tea. Assisting in the dining room was Mrs. Ralph Wardle, Mrs. James Earle, Mrs. C. W. Helmstadter, Mrs. Martin Bush, Mrs. E. M. Hosman, Miss Margaret Killian, Mrs. L. O. Taylor, Mrs. T. Earl Sullenger and Mrs. R. J. Maxwell.

Soc Club meeting

Omaha University's Sociology Club held its second panel discussion yesterday at 1 p. m. in room 209.

Mrs. Catherine Thomas, instructor in the sociology department, lead the discussion on the "Problems of Courtship."

Hansen is editor of the fraternity paper.

As a part of their policy of civic service, the Theta's assisted at a South Side Children's Halloween party last fall, and recently took a group of 45 YMCA boys to the Shrine Circus. Members also worked on the City-Wide Goodwill Pick-up Drive, the Campus Chest and the Cancer Drive.

In addition to their all-Greek formal dance, the fraternity holds frequent smaller parties. On this year's social calendar have been a Christmas party with the Chi O's, several stag parties and a smoker. An all-day picnic, the "Blow Out," will be held at Valley in June to wind up the year's activities.

At Ma-ie Day, 1950, the Theta's won third place in the skit competition. This year, the fraternity ranked third in chapter scholarship, according to the Greek Week reports.

Pan-hell elects Judd president at meet

Syntha Judd was elected the new president of Omaha University's Pan-hellenic Council Wednesday afternoon. Miss Judd is an Alpha Xi Delta.

Nancy Hileman, Zeta Tau Alpha, was elected vice president. Nancy Spring, Sigma Kappa, was chosen secretary and Jackie Zerbe, Chi Omega, treasurer.

The new representatives to the Pan-hellenic Council took over their duties at that time. Office-holding on the council is determined by rotation. The order of rotation is based on the dates that the sororities went national. Gamma Sigma Omicron, OU's only local sorority, holds membership on the council but does not hold any offices.

Other new council members are Alpha Xi Delta, Patsy Cahow; Chi Omega, Doris Hanson; Gamma Sigma Omicron, Barbara Frederiksen; Sigma Kappa, Pat Johanssen, and Zeta Tau Alpha, Marcia Jourdan.
